HORN JOTTINGS.

SEVERAL cases of malignant fever at King's Mountain Tunnel this week.

An infant son of Mr. S. J. Singleton, died in this county on the 7th inst. of brain fever.

THE frosts of last week ruined about half of the now scant tobacco crop in the purchase.

CAPT. W. S. MILLER, Jr., was married to Miss Pattie Peacock, in Lancaster, on the 13th inst.

THE Court of Appeals reversed the decision of the Lincoln Circuit Court in the case of Denny vs. Miller.

THE Hanging Fork Grange of this county, will hereafter meet on every second Saturday in each month at Given's school house.

REV. A. D. RUSH will preach in the Logan's Creek Church next Sunday Morning, and perhaps will continue a few days following.

THE Trustees of the Cincinnati Southern Railway have advertised for proposals to furnish 650,000 corn ties. See card elsewhere for particulars.

We thank Mr. P. H. Hall, one of the Engineers corps at Kings Mountain Tunnel, for a splendid collection of geological specimens from the tunnel.

THE election of Judge Jno. M. Phillips as Common School Commissioner for Lincoln county gives universal satisfaction to the friends of intellectual progress throughout the county.

MARRIED.—At the residence of Samuel Embury, near Stanford, on the 15th inst., Mr. Wm. Grimes, of Garrard county, to Miss Virginia Shanks, daughter of the late Wm. Shanks, deceased.

BEHOLD an era of peace and good will between the Doctors and Grangers has been commenced! The Central Kentucky Medical Association met in the Hall of the Grangers, last Wednesday.

MR. BURN, the purchaser of the farm of Mr. M. G. Lackey, quoted in our last issue as a contractor on the Cincinnati Southern Railway, and is a fine old Virginia Gentleman, whom we are fortunate in securing as a citizen of the county.

PERSONS who desire a few select fruit trees this season should not forget the home nursery of Mr. P. L. Simpson, of Texas, located at the residence of his father, Colonel Grimes, in this county, on Tuesday night last, and her remains were interred in the Buffalo Cemetery yesterday morning.

MR. GRIMES visited Kentucky as a last resort, yet not with much hope of his young wife's recovering from the insidious disease, consumption. Whatever of consolation there is in the heartfelt sympathy of the friends of his early days, is offered him unsparingly.

A LARGE number of the members composing the Christian Church at Stanford, are exceedingly anxious to secure the pastoral services of Elder J. L. Allen, of Danville, for the ensuing year, at a salary of $1,000, and express a willingness to subscribe liberally for that purpose. Judging from our standpoint of observation, he is preeminently the man for the field of labor. He is an attractive speaker, zealous worker, untiring in his devotion to the cause of Christianity; and has fine social qualities, which render him especially fitted for the work of building up a church.

THE secretary of the Order of Good Templars in his annual report to the Grand Lodge, made this tribute to the famous "Woman's Crusade": "I desire to place this testimonial upon record, though coming at a late day, and some may think out of season, that to the 'Woman's Crusade' more than any other cause of the temperance cause owe its present prosperity in Kentucky. It is true we have had no 'Crusaders' here, but they served to direct public attention towards the traffic, in a moral and effective manner, and a universal awakening for temperance was the result. As evidence, during its continuance we had nearly a hundred new Lodges instituted, and a clear gain to the Order of over 5,000 members!"

PROF. JOHN F. TARRANT, Principal of Caldwell Institute, Danville, late Principal of Crab Orchard College for Young Ladies, died on Wednesday night, the 14th instant, at his home in Danville, from hemorrhage of the bowels. His death is greatly deplored by his many friends and acquaintances of this county, and his loss to the cause of education is a serious one. He was a Methodist minister, a Mason of high degree, and, socially, one of the most pleasant men ever met. We deeply sympathize with his most excellent wife and interesting little children, in their irreparable loss. Prof. Tarrant came from Mississippi to this State about two years ago, and we presume, his family will return to their native South.

The statement in last week's paper that the wealth of the Christian Church approximated one million dollars, elicited a prolonged Oh-oh-oh-oh! One pious old Christian gentleman, a pillar of the Temple of Zion, called us to a severe account for drawing our conclusions from an unfettered imagination. He thought it a shame that our arithmetical education should have been so sadly neglected! Like an experienced angler we gave him all the line he wanted, but finally brought him to anchor with names and figures representing an aggregate of $700,000, and no name on the list whose possessions amounted to less than $5,000! As to the fanciful ability of the church to make the much needed improvements there can arise no question. The only questions are: Does the cause demand it? are you in favor of it?

Mrs. KIRKBY, of Cincinnati, who is residing in this locality, at present, and who was identified with the late "women's crusade" movement in Ohio, addressed a temperance mass meeting at the Court-house last Tuesday evening, upon temperance. A large crowd, doubtless with a few exceptions, drawn by the novelty of a lecture by a female, were in attendance and gave the most respectful attention to the speaker. She gave the origin of the wonderful crusade movement, and related many affecting incidents which occurred during its active existence. She said the organization of "crusaders" still existed, but working in another way than by public demonstration. She taught some wholesome truths to the audience, and made an especial appeal to the ladies to exert their influence in behalf of the cause. "The men," she said, "make the laws, and to them women have to look for their enforcement; but the work of redeeming the country from dissipation and ruin through law, belongs peculiarly to the women of the country."

Our Advertisers.
The pressure upon our advertising columns this week, made by those who are near us and have opportunities to judge of our circulation, and have tested satisfactorily the system of newspaper advertising, necessitates the issue of a supplement to make up our usual quantity of reading matter, and prevent growing upon the part of our subscribers. This we do cheerfully—because it pays. We ask every reader of the JOURNAL as a special favor to us, to give our advertising columns a careful perusal this week; and in asking it, believe that it will redound to your interest. We call especial attention to the cards of several of our enterprising and liberal mechanics, of whom we shall write at length in a subsequent issue. We most certainly think this class of men if the country prosper, and in doing so we use the most effective means of breaking down the manufacturing rings that infest the large cities of the East. If we starve them out we are wholly at the mercy of the monopolies. If we sustain and encourage them, we are independent. In reference to their respectability as viewed from the standpoint of the moneyed well and aristocratic bond-holder, we shall have a word to say in future.

E. O. G. T.
The Grand Lodge of Good Templars of Kentucky met in Louisville last week, and had a large attendance and a pleasant session. The grand officers' reports showed the order in a most flourishing condition, and the increase during the current year most remarkable. The following are the Grand Officers elected for the ensuing year:—
Rev. Green Clay Smith, of Frankfort, Grand Worthy Chief Templar—salary $1,000 per annum—he to occupy his pulpit in Frankfort and lecture on occasion; requiring;
G. W. Bain, of Louisville, Grand Worthy Counselor—salary $1,000, Miss Eunice Hampton, of Logan county, Grand Worthy Vice Templar; N. F. Thompson, of Nelson county, Grand Worthy Secretary and Treasurer—salary $1,500; W. A. Caldwell, of Kenton county, Grand Worthy Marshal.
Rev. Green Clay Smith, N. F. Thompson, G. W. Bain and Tim Needham were elected delegates to the Right Worthy Grand Lodge of the world, which meets at Bloomington, Illinois, in next May; and J. Henry Powell, Miss Alice Drake, Miss Eunice Hampton, and Wallace Grinnell were elected alternates. The next meeting of the Grand Lodge will be held in Covington on the second Tuesday in October 1875.

Obituary.
Died, at his residence, in Crab Orchard, Kentucky, October 15, 1874, JAMES BEDDOW.
This dispensation of an Allwise Providence grieves us much. Although he had lived beyond the time allotted to man, his usefulness can ill be dispensed with. He was a true and influential member of the Methodist Church, a noble and consistent Good Templar, and, by his death, a bright and light-giving star of the Sunday School has been extinguished in the zenith of its brilliancy. All through his long earthly pilgrimage, he seemed to have no higher aspiration than to follow his humble trade, that of a saddler, and, as a Christian, to know his duty, for he possessed the courage to discharge it. But he has been taken from us in the midst of his usefulness, and has gone to rest in that eternal home, where sin and sorrow are never known, and where peace and harmony shall ever reign.
During his brief illness he was rational, and fully aware of his condition, expressing no great regret, but poised on the glorious capture of the gospel, he realized a profound sense of safety, and security and heavenly peace abounded, and, in our opinion, no better tribute to his memory can be made than to say that when his lifeless remains were deposited in the sepulchre, the veil of death was drawn over a true Christian and an honest man. Though we deeply deplore the loss of this aged and greatly beloved brother, yet we trust his bright example may be the means of stimulating others to follow in his footprints.

"Yes, thou art gathered to the eternal harvest; but thy labors were not in vain. Nature sinks to rest. Long on our hearts may thy life's example dwell. Farewell, our aged friend, a last, a sweet farewell."
J. R. P.

INTERIOR JOURNAL--SUPPLEMENT.

VOL III. STANFORD, KENTUCKY, FRIDAY, OCTOBER 23, 1874.

NO. 136.

DURHAM stock is advancing!

SAM SMITH is said to be the sire of the secret candidate system.

HON. J. PROCTOR KNOTT, it seems, must enter Congress over a rugged Hill.

Is the secret candidate for Congress the seedy individual that Collier ker-flumixed so recently?

MISS MARY HALL took the premium at one of our recent Kentucky fairs for the best bed comforter. Craddock was one of the judges!

THAT secret candidate must be the individual that bolted the Republican nomination for county judge of Garrard, and joined Kennedy's secret service brigade!

A FEW weeks ago the Courier-Journal "gave it up." Now it is decidedly of the opinion that the Democrats have a brilliant showing for a majority in the House.

Is the foxy candidate for Congress in this District a white man with black binding or vice versa? That is a matter, however, of very small consequence.

McMURTRY would take it on the sly, eh? We are not so very unsophisticated in "the ways that are dark and tricks that are vain" as practiced by such Radicals as Sam Smith, Jim McMurry and W. O. B—utler.

WE'VE met Radicalism in the 8th District in all of its phases: Radicalism straight, Radicalism sugar-coated, and Independent Radicalism; but the bitterest Radicalism of all, is Radicalism in ambush.

Who is this man McMurry who attempts the gauzy game of a sly candidacy against Milt Durham? We have enquired diligently, and have not been able to ascertain the important intelligence as to his complexion.

A PARTY is in a miserably desperate strait for representation in Congress that will resort to the pitiful plan of running a secret candidate. But it is in keeping with Radicalism. It dares not make an open fight against a party of principles.

THE sudden advance in the price of mourning goods is attributable to the probability that Brigham Young will soon depart for that bourne. His multiplicity of wives will, of course, take mourning, and all the tiles of his numerous male progeny will be bound with the fluttering ensignry of woe.

DURHAM'S DUMB OPPONENT!

"And Balaam Smote the Ass and he spake."

A Radical Skeleton Unearthed!!

Democrats, to the Polls!

Judge Durham has received information from an authentic source that he has a secret opponent for Congress in the person of one McMurry, of Bryantsville, Garrard county, who has instructed his political friends in different portions of the district to make preparation for a solid Radical vote on Tuesday week; and the experience of Democrats in Kentucky is, that the Republican organization is compact and army-like, and, when called upon to support their political friends, they rally to a man! It behooves Democrats of the district, who desire to defeat Radicalism in any form, shape, or disguise, to prepare for any emergency! Next Tuesday week will be the day of election for Congress, and whether it is true or false that Judge Durham will have opposition, it is the duty of every Democratic voter in the District to go to the polls and cast his ballot for Durham! Let no one fail to perform this duty he owes to his party and to the country.

THE State can not afford to lose Judge Durham's services in Congress at this time. Although a new member, he made a record during the last session of Congress of which his district and State can well be proud. His district will consult its own interest and reward him by returning him as its representative. —Louisville Ledger.

TALK about "Southern outrages!" Some Radical leader of this district has gotten up the most prodigious outrage ever perpetuated upon a party of civilized people. We doubt if the Voodoo negroes of Florida would engage in such a trick. We doubt, also, if respectable Republicans of this district will take stock in it.

THE way the report was started that Judge Durham had resigned as a candidate for Congress in this district is explained by a Lexington correspondent of the Courier-Journal. A man from our side of the river, named McChesney, had a lot of hand-bills printed in Lexington containing what purported to be the proceedings of a meeting of the Democratic Executive Committee, in which the resignation of Mr. Durham was made known to the Democracy of his district, as was also the appointment of Col. R. J. Breckenridge by the committee to fill the vacancy. It was evidently the intention of the "secret candidate" to distribute these hand-bills a day or two before the election, and by raising a hue and cry in the Democratic party against the action of the committee, he hoped to secure his election. And, we confess to some shame when we say that a trick so stupid might have been successful, so desperately jealous are Eighth-district Democrats of what they term "packed conventions, rings, cliques," etc. It is very clear to us that if we wake up on the morning of the election to find a Radical candidate in the field, it will not be McMurry! There is a young Radical orator, statesman and party trickster in the district who would give his ears for the office, and wouldn't be a bit fastidious as to the means he employed to get it.

THE following is a copy of the letter which exposed the underhanded operations of the secret candidate. He declares himself "the Republican party candidate against Durham." Does he do this without authority of the leaders of his party? The people are interested in this; as they are also anxious to know what manner of man this astute individual is. Has he other qualifications than being a Republican? Is he honest, faithful, competent? Is he sober? What of his past record as a partizan, citizen, and neighbor? Is he Radical or Conservative in his views? Does he approve of the corruption in high places, and is he for the Civil Rights bill? Respectable Republicans are not a pack of sheep to be led to sacrifice without a show for a decent slaughter, and they want to know who this, their Caesar is, and what of his meat? The more intelligent Republicans pronounce the whole scheme decidedly "thin" Here is the letter:

BRYANTSVILLE, KY., Oct. 14, 1872.
To the Postmaster at —, Ky.

DEAR SIR—I have sent you a bundle of ballots which you will hand to some reliable Republican of your county and inform also the leaders of your county that I am the Republican party candidate against Mr. Durham and to organize the party as well as possible and quietly as can be done, leaving the Democratic party in the dark. I have been in eight counties, and the leading Republicans are at work. Let me hear from you as soon as possible, and give me an approximate estimate of the vote that you will give. Respectfully,

J. L. McMURTRY.

THE report which was so widely circulated last week to the effect that Hon. M. J. Durham had withdrawn from the race for Congress in this district, and Col. R. J. Breckenridge nominated in his stead, was a canard, well-concocted, and circulated for a base purpose. Subsequent events tend to impress this fact upon us. A trickster, of little less renown in this district than Ben Butler is in Massachusetts, may be responsible for its origin and hoped to make it subserve his interests. Its prompt correction, however, effectually thwarted his designs, and its tendency, we hope, is to open the eyes of the political friends of Mr. Durham, and make them crowd to the polls next Tuesday week and roll up the largest vote for Judge Durham ever given a congressional aspirant in the district.

THE States of Indiana, Iowa, Ohio and West Virginia have together forty-five Representatives in Congress. They are now divided as follows: Republicans 33; Democrats 12. In the next Congress they will stand: Democrats 54; Republicans 21. There has been until now no such political revolution since the memorable days of 1840.

SOMEBODY—some crack-brained editor, perhaps—suggests that the remedy for lawlessness, such as affects Breathitt county, is to divide the county into three or four parts and attach it to the adjoining counties. A spoonful of Breathitt county attached to Plymouth rock would leaven the whole in less than a fortnight. Deliver us from such a system of annexation.

Circuit Court Items.

The regular Fall term of the Lincoln Circuit Court convened last Monday with a light docket, save in the line of chronic cases. The organization of the court occupied the forenoon, and the afternoon was consumed in the instruction of the Grand Jury, and the disposal for the term of a number of Commonwealth cases of years standing. The elaborate charge of Judge Owsley to the Grand Jury, which is composed of citizens of unexceptionable honor, more than average intelligence and great county pride, was the principal feature of the day. His instructions were delivered in a plain and concise manner, without the least exhibition of self-importance or supposed superiority. The duties which the law imposed upon the Grand Jury were given in detail so that the plainest man in the panel could not fail to understand them, or fail to be impressed with the importance of his performing them in a faithful, conscientious and fearless manner. Referring to the crimes and misdemeanors now so rife in the State, the existence of which is so persistently charged upon the officers and Jurors of the county, he charged them to look well to every species of offence, and every class of offender. The three offences which have heretofore been overlooked by the courts viz: Carrying concealed weapons, gaming and tipping, he charged the Jury to look after with especial care, and to find true bills only in such cases as they believed the Petit Jurors could convict, and trust to the court implicitly for the ultimate conviction and proper punishment of the guilty.

Judge Owsley shows a determination to conduct the business of his court with system and dispatch. He enforces good order in the court room, and commands the respect of the bar, jurors, and spectators. He requires the jurors, witnesses, attorneys and officers of the court to remain in the court room under penalty, and suffers no one to be called at the door unless his absence from the courtroom is absolutely necessary.

Our new Commonwealth's Attorney, Geo. Denny, jr., exhibits activity, fearlessness and ability as a prosecutor, and we cheerfully admit that his election was by no means a calamity to the District. We expect to see no mercy shown to criminals by the Attorney for the Commonwealth during his term of office.

What our new Circuit Court Clerk lacks in experience he makes up in politeness to members of the bar and all who have business in the Court, and attentiveness to his multiplicity of duties. Officers Saunders, Withers and Buford are on hands, and enter into the spirit of the Court in maintaining order, and in manipulating the machinery of court so as to make "all things work together for good."

The Grand Jury is composed of the following even-tempered, cool-headed gentlemen, who will not fail in the performance of their whole duty through fear or favor: A. K. Denny, foreman, J. P. Land, W. C. Bailey, R. E. Barron, T. T. Davies, John W. Logan, Wm. Burton, Patrick Napier, Wm. C. Bastin, Thos. H. Shanks, John G. Seargent, James Dudderard, sr.

Frank, B. McClary, Oscar Owsley, Wm. R. Moeke, R. G. Craig.

Judge Owsley appointed his predecessor, Hon. F. T. Fox, Master Commissioner for Boyle county, and E. D. Kennedy Master Commissioner for Garrard. He has not made an appointment for Lincoln county yet, but we presume will before the close of the term. D. W. Vandever is strongly recommended for Trustee of the Jury Fund, and R. C. Warren, Esq., heartily endorsed and commended by the bar for Master Commissioner.

The troublesome case of the Commonwealth vs. A. Turnbull, the trial of which has resulted in several hung juries, and has cost the State several thousand dollars, consumed the whole of last Tuesday in the rehearsal of testimony and much speaking. It appears to be a case of prejudice between several illiterate families of questionable virtue in which it is alleged that a "Bull" made a raid in the "night time" upon an antiquated "Dyehouse." The jury finally agreed to a verdict of acquittal.

On Tuesday, a motion was made by J. Mason Brown, Esq., of Louisville, for a transfer of the case of the St. Louis Mutual Life Insurance Company against H. Helm's Trustee to the United States Court, and a transfer obtained, the plaintiffs being a non-resident.

The Petit Jury is composed of the following sober, discreet and intelligent gentlemen: Geo. G. Boon, Jno S. Bosley, Geo. P. Bright, Wm. M. Carpenter, O. J. Crow, R. S. Campbell, Harrison Dunn, Wm. T. Green, Jackson Givens, James Givens, Wm. H. Hays, Wm. S. Hocker, Geo. W. James, Wm. Lucas, Marshal Morgan, Robert Menifee, W. Perciful, Joseph Swope, Wiatt Sandridge, Daniel Stagg, Monroe Smith, H. L. Stephenson, Feland Thurmond, Geo. Vaughn.

The Grand Jury returned ten indictments on Wednesday, three for murder, several for carrying concealed weapons and four or five for tipping. Indictments were found against Mike Ely, Hall and Gresham for the murder of Ferrill, and the court refusing them bail upon application, they were remanded to jail. Upon a writ of habeas corpus they were brought before his honor Judge Owsley, yesterday, and proof offered to secure bail for them.

The Grand Jury are making it lively for offenders. About one hundred summons for witnesses have been placed in the Sheriff's hands. They are raiding on the illicit grog-shops along the Cincinnati Southern Railway in a most terrific manner, and fur will fly as a result. Forty indictments found up the hour of adjournment yesterday.

It is refreshing to see the system and order observed in conducting the court by the Judge and executives. A number of fines have been entered against lawyers and spectators for disturbing the court by talking, whispering, etc.

Hon. G. W. Dunlap has presided in several Commonwealth cases in which Judge Owsley has prosecuted as Commonwealth's Attorney. He is exceedingly careful to avoid giving decisions in such cases.

Twenty-five pages of the order book were consumed in recording the proceedings of the court up to Tuesday morning. Among the Commonwealth cases tried are: C. Jones for assault and battery, fined $100; John Alexander, carrying concealed weapons, fined $20; A. G. Talbott, tipping house, fined $20.

On yesterday (Thursday) the court-room was crowded with spectators throughout the day: the slander suit of C. Campbell, Sr., vs. W. K. Denny being the attraction. This suit was docketed for Thursday, but set for trial next Tuesday.

The following Attorneys were present at motion hour Thursday morning: John F. Higgins, Curtis Field, Col. Caperton, J. L. Allen, Wm. Chenault, Chas. Breck, Samuel Hardin, W. H. Bradford, J. Warren Grigsby, Hill & Alcorn, Jas. A. Anderson, R. M. Brady, Ben. F. Burdett, Wm. O. Bradley, R. J. Breckenridge, F. F. Bobbitt, Robert Blain, Jno. C. Cooper, G. W. Dunlap.

That Corn Show.

Last year we had quite an interesting, not to say profitable, corn show, and the result of it was of material advantage to our county. We know this to be so. We promised our patrons in announcing the result of the contest a mammoth corn exposition this Fall. We are now prepared to make good the promise, and hope every farmer-patron of the JOURNAL, if not every single farmer in the county, will participate, whether he has hopes of winning the "blue tie" or not. We shall certainly expect those non-participants in the former exhibition who professed to be able to beat Mr. Vaughn's premium corn to enter the contest at this time. The following premiums are offered and limited to the productions of Lincoln county soil; though persons from adjoining counties are at liberty to exhibit their corn, but with no expectation of entering it for the premiums:

PREMIUM LIST.

For the largest and best six ears of corn—one year's subscription to the INTERIOR JOURNAL and Farmer's Home Journal.

For the largest and best six ears of mixed pollen (white and yellow, red and white, etc.)—the INTERIOR JOURNAL and Southern Agriculturist (State Grange organ) one year.

For the largest ear of corn—the INTERIOR JOURNAL and American Agriculturist one year.

Entries free, and may be made at any time between this date (Oct. 16) and the second Monday in December.

HILTON & CAMPBELL,
Pro's of Journal.

Mr. W. E. WORD has sold his interest in the Barbourville Echo to his former partner, Mr. J. H. Wilson, and has retired from the editorial management of the paper. It is now no longer neutral in politics, but rabidly Republican, and flaunts the name of the Republican nominee for Congress in the Ninth District, Hon. J. D. White, at its mast head. Indeed it is, paradoxically, a White paper darkly Radical; and we fear a mighty good country paper has been subsidized in the interest of a congressional canvass. We wish Wilson great pecuniary success, but hope he will never have the opportunity to fire a victorious cannon.

J. M. COOPER.

A REPRESENTATIVE AND Champion of American Art Taste!

Prospectus for 1875—Eighth Year!

THE ALDINE!

THE ART JOURNAL OF AMERICA!

ISSUED MONTHLY.

A Magnificent Conception, Wonderfully Carried Out.

The necessity of a popular medium for the representation of the productions of our great artists, has always been recognized, and many attempts have been made to meet the want. The successive failures which so invariably followed each attempt in this country to establish an art journal, did not prove the indifference of the people of America to the claims of the high art. So soon as a proper appreciation of the want and an ability to meet it were shown, the public at once rallied with enthusiasm to its support, and the result was a great artistic and commercial triumph—THE ALDINE.

THE ALDINE, while issued with all the regularity, has none of the temporary or timely interest characteristic of ordinary periodicals. It is an elegant miscellany of pure, light and graceful literature; and a collection of pictures, the rarest specimens of artistic skill, in black and white. Although each succeeding number affords a fresh pleasure to the reader, the real value and beauty of THE ALDINE will be most appreciated after it is bound up at the close of the year. While other publications may claim superior cheapness, as compared with rivals of a similar class, THE ALDINE is a unique and original conception—alone and unsurpassed, absolutely without competition in price or character. The possessor of a complete volume cannot duplicate the quantity of fine paper and engravings in any other shape or number of volumes for ten times its cost; and then, there is the chromo, besides.

The national feature of THE ALDINE must be taken in no narrow sense. The art is cosmopolitan. While THE ALDINE is a strictly American institution, it does not confine itself exclusively to the representation of native art. Its mission is to cultivate a broad and appreciative art taste, one that will discriminate only on grounds of intrinsic merit. Thus while placing before the patrons of THE ALDINE, as a leading characteristic, the productions of the most noted American artists, attention will always be given to specimens from foreign masters, giving subscribers all the pleasure and instruction obtainable from home or foreign sources.

The artistic illustrations of American scenery, original with THE ALDINE, is an important feature, and its magnificent plates are of a size more appropriate to the satisfactory treatment of details than can be afforded by any inferior page. The judicious interposition of landscape, marine, figure, and animal subjects, sustain an unabated interest; impossible where the scope of the work confines the artist too closely to a single style of subject. The literature of THE ALDINE is a light and graceful accompaniment, worthy of the artistic features, with only such technical discussions as do not interfere with the interest of the work.

Premium for 1875.

Every subscriber for 1875 will receive a beautiful portrait in oil colors, of the same noble dog whose picture in a former issue attracted so much attention.

"Man's Unselfish Friend"

will be welcome in every home. Everybody loves such a dog, and the portrait is executed so true to life, that it seems the veritable presence of the animal itself. The Rev. T. De Witt Talmage tells us that his own Newfoundland dog (the finest in Brooklyn) barks at it! Although so natural, no one who sees this premium chromo will have the slightest fear of being bitten. Besides this chromo, every advance subscriber to THE ALDINE for 1875 is constituted a member, and entitled to all the privileges of

The Aldine Art Union.

The Union owns the originals of all THE ALDINE pictures, which, with other paintings and engravings, are to be distributed among the members. To every series of 5,000 subscribers, 100 different pieces, valued at over $2,500 are distributed as soon as the series is full, and the awards of each series are made, and are to be published in the next succeeding issue of THE ALDINE. This feature only applies to subscribers who pay for a year in advance. Full particulars in circular sent on application enclosing a stamp.

Terms.

One subscription, entitling to THE ALDINE one year, the Chromo and the Art Union, $6 per annum in advance. No charge for postage. Specimen copies of THE ALDINE, 50 cents.

THE ALDINE will, hereafter, be obtainable only by subscription. There will be no reduced or club rates; cash for subscriptions must be sent to the publishers direct, or handed to the local canvasser, without responsibility to the publishers, except in cases where the certificate is given, bearing the facsimile signature of James Sutton, President.

Canvassers Wanted.

Any person wishing to act permanently as a local canvasser will receive full and prompt information by applying to
